Soul Age Comparison Chart

	Infant Souls	Child Souls	Young Souls	Mature Souls	Old Souls
Motto	Let's not do it.	Do it right or not at all.	It's all about me!	I know how you feel.	Live and let live.
Skills	Basics of survival – finding food, shelter and staying alive. Close to the earth and Spirit gives them a mystical flavour.	Tireless worker; in their minds they can make major contributions to the human race; very principled; authoritative; money is a priority but from a security point of view, not for power or control.	Not always the brightest by try very hard. Can be quick learners; have trouble adapting to new environments; natural problem solvers when it will give them a benefit over someone or a situation; Always look to leverage off someone else's hard work or higher intelligence. Very good with the gift of the gab, natural manipulators, con men, politicians. Money is very important because money = power.	Highly capable; can make major contributions to the human race; very principled; progressive and natural reformers; money is not a high priority. Always making adjustments to better themselves.	Quick learners; adaptable; natural problem solvers that rely on their own inner resources to find solutions; ability to be their own authority and look within for the answers.
Framework	Emotions are primal, not deep and usually sparked by joy or fear – not much in between. Very simplistic interpretation of life. Child like innocence. Gullible due to lack of inherent knowledge.	Emotionally lacking, cold; justice is decided by God, then the courts; stoic; prone to OCD.	Emotionally detached; confuse lust for love, greed focused; not interested with the problems in the world; willingness to cooperate with others only if there is an advantage; my way or the highway; small picture oriented; prone to self aggrandizing; hubris, vain, materialistic. Typical Yuppie, Mafia type; almost all NWO are here.	Emotionally intense and dramatic; idealistic and committed to eradicating injustice; confused and irrational at times; compassionate and empathetic; prone to addictive behaviours. This is the first level they understand and experience true love.	More emotionally detached but not unemotional; intellectually focused; not overly identified with the problems in the world; willingness to cooperate with others; love of exchange and philosophy but preferring their own slant; big picture oriented; sometimes prone to self-deprecation.
Aim	Stay alive! Learn as much as they can about the basics of living and survival.	Head down, bum up – work and toil. We have our lot in life and God makes all of our decisions. Not interested in understand themselves or others- there is nothing to understand; focused on following society norms – get a job, get married, have kids, go to church; deep down afraid of the world; feels obliged to be a part of social groups like churches and fund raisers, political parties etc.	Seeing what they can get out of any situation; seek personal power/fame/riches; Ego rules; Never accepts responsibility; a desire to be better than friends, family, and work colleges. Will only join clubs or social networks if they think it will get them ahead. To be the best at everything. Quantity over quality, productivity over human rights.	Trying to understand themselves and others; focused on relationships and emotional expression; need to make contribution to world; wants to belong to something; sometimes desires to be "like" others in terms of beliefs, behaviour, fashion, etc. but usually adopts avant-garde tastes.	Spiritual expansion and understanding; seek personal evolution; modelling old soul behaviour to others; teaching by example and a need to teach and assist others in general; accept responsibility with grace; a simple desire to enjoy life, friends, family, and work.
Relationships	Perceive themselves as "me" and others as "not me". They treat other people as objects. They see nothing wrong in lying, stealing, cheating, and murdering if it seems to further their personal advantage. They are clannish about their families. They don't deal with strangers at all.	Almost business like; arranged marriages would suit them; cannot express themselves emotionally yet. Sex strictly with the lights out, pyjamas on and strictly for procreation. Guilt associated with any pleasure. Strong family, community bond.	Feel more connected to objects than people. See human relationships as another competition, partner as object, no idea what true love is. Fear keeps them in relationships. They are happy to isolate themselves putting work/career above all else. Not very trusting – they invented the pre-nuptial agreement! Would sell their mothers if there was a buck in it so family ties not very strong. They tolerate family only out of obligation or for personal gain.	Intense and enduring; soap opera-like; prone to over identification; seek community; want to find others or a community that understands them; Would prefer to have a mate for life. They will choice someone that can understand them and vice versa. Very passionate with the right partner.	Feel connected to everything, (e.g., relations to people, animals, the environment; intimate and caring; not soap opera-like; long lasting; sensual and favouring sex with intimacy and good communication; enjoy differences in others. Usually live alone in complete happiness and balance.
Interests	Infant souls are dealing with survival issues, and most of the Infant souls on the planet are members of primitive tribes where these issues are being dealt with on a daily basis. Childish games and activities.	Guns, the Bible and "man" sports; women like baking, sewing, crafts but not for pleasure more out of obligation and sometimes prestige. Simple pleasures. They love keeping tradition alive.	Very goal / career orientated with strong drive and commitment. They love to live the high life, splash money around, live beyond their means. Any competitive sport or activity – watching more than participating. Any chance to belittle someone else or get one over someone else.	Supporting the arts and advancing human service; making a contribution to society; exploring new things; joining emotional causes and being a champion of them. Forever seeking knowledge for knowledge sake.	Having fun, enjoying good humour, and learning to relax more; seeking work that enriches and satisfies rather than rewards with abundant wealth or prestige; communing with nature; expressing natural talents in many areas.
Values	Taking advantage of any situation or any person for personal gain. Not much savvy and easily fooled. They follow whatever their parents/elders do without question. They have not yet formulated their own set of values.	Very pious; extreme patriotism; believe in censorship; always follow the rules to the letter, seek social reform to their values; environmentalism & animal rights nonexistence – God gave man domain over the earth etc. Never question authority.	Appearance over substance; breaking the rules if there is an advantage (particularly monetary); enjoying life's pleasures, including sex as a sport, Corruption is perfectly acceptable, after all everyone does it don't they? Suicide is an honourable (easy) way out.	Love of art and creativity in all forms; philosophy; expression and exchange; abhor censorship; seek social reform and personal growth; environmentalism & animal rights. They want to save the world.	Substance over appearance; bending the rules; enjoying life and all that it brings, including sex, good food, good communication, good music, philosophical discourse, and anything else sensual or intellectually stimulating.
